Equally important, your membership at Fueled Collective sits amidst an entire community that includes CEOs, corporate team leaders, startup founders, investors, and top shelf consultants in technology, management and marketing.

Traditional office spaces require a lot of additional contracts and costs. Those costs include:

- Printers with longer term leases
- Furniture or rentals
- Coffee + kitchen furnishing
- Cleaning and utility services: internet, power, security
- Typically longer term leases, lacking flexibility to grow, move or change

A note on guests and interns:

All members will have access to guest passes. All guests must be accompanied by a member. Guests must sign in upon arrival at the front desk, and the hosting member will be there to greet and accompany them in the space. All guests working in the space for more than 4 hours are asked to purchase a day pass. Interns that will be in the space more than what is allowed under the guest policy must also have a membership.
